Touch up Paint Kits

Mapaero has developed a touch up kit for cabin interior paints. The Kits, known as TUK's, use a paint system called FR2/55 which is already OEM certified and has been widely used by aircraft cabin manufactures and maintenance companies globally for many years.

The introduction of touch up kits will allow Airlines and the MRO industry to source small amounts of paint to repair areas of the cabin quickly and with confidence. The packaging containing only 45ml of material will offer huge savings in the logistics of sending paint from one location to another when compared to the costs of the traditional method of shipping gallon sized packs to a repair centre when only a fraction of the paint is required.

Throughout the show the Mapaero team will have TUK's available on the stand and can arrange for samples to be sent on request so please feel free to drop by the stand for more details.

FR-M1K

One of our new additions to the Mapaero FR range this year is the FRM1K.

This one component water based acrylic filler is used for the repair of small defects such as pin holes on composite panels and is the newest product from the Mapaero range. FRM1K is supplied in simple squeezable 400gr tubes to reduce wastage and offers paint preparation areas a no fuss, no mixing and clean solution to surface preparation prior to the painting of cabin interior components .

Applied quickly with a spatula and with fast dry to sand times this putty is the perfect replacement for traditional two part fillers. Throughout the show samples can be arranged by stopping by the stand where the team will be happy to assist.

Airbus top honours three years running

Mapaero have been awarded top honours yet again in the Airbus SQIP Awards. (Supply Chain Quality Improvement Program) This year the company was awarded the highest accolade by Airbus with an Accreditation. The Award will sit proudly with the golden awards received over the last two years for best improving supplier and then best supplier to Airbus.

Mapaero strives to be the best in our field and recognition of this from a company such as Airbus provides the drive to make the company improve even more.
